

The Fidelity Verification Process for Positive Parenting Program (Triple P)

One of the requirements of PCCD grant-funded programs is for the program's developer or their designee to conduct a Fidelity Verification Review of sites/agencies, indicating whether or not programs are being implemented with sufficient quality and fidelity, and per the grant proposals. The Fidelity Verification Review Process is an integral part of promoting model adherence, quality implementation, sustainability, and demonstrating program outcomes and impact. It also gives the developer or designee a means to provide necessary feedback should there be any notable areas of improvement needed.

The Fidelity Verification Process is completed at the end of Year 1. Listed below are the steps that you are expected to follow in order to complete this process if you are implementing the Positive Parenting Program (Triple P) funded by a PCCD grant:

Steps of the Fidelity Verification Process:

1. Grantee contacts the two Triple P Consultants to:
  - a. Schedule fidelity verification phone consult with a Triple P trainer.
  - b. Review Year 1 Final Report as well as Implementation Plans.
2. Triple P Consultants and Trainer complete fidelity verification document after review/assessment. Document is sent to PCCD grantee.
3. Grantee:
  - a. Scans/Emails document to PCCD Analyst and EPISCenter PC.
  - b. Submits final document into Egrants no later than Year 2, Quarter 1 of the grant period.
4. Follow-up with EPISCenter Coordinator to discuss developer recommendations

*Please note, there is a cost associated with the Fidelity Verification process. It is recommended that individuals contact Triple P America to obtain cost information for budgeting purposes.
