This checklist is designed for group leaders to complete together following a session, or for a group leader to complete for him/herself when reviewing a video of a session. By watching the tape of a session, and looking for the following points, a leader can identify specific goals for progress. This checklist is designed to complement the more specific checklist for each session, which lists the key content and vignettes that should be covered.

</tbody>
</table>
8. Highlight and write down key principles that their examples illustrate?
   (e.g., “That’s great! You remembered that making the task fun was more likely to motivate him. I think that our next principle will be ‘Fun Principle’—kids are most likely to keep trying if they’re having fun.”)

9. Help parents integrate prior learning by asking them to use “principles” from prior sessions to solve new child problems that occur?

10. Explore with individuals who didn’t complete the home activities what made it difficult, and learn how they might adapt it to fit their needs and goals?

11. If a parent’s description of how they applied the skills makes it clear that he/she misunderstood, did the leaders accept responsibility for the misunderstanding rather than leave the parent feeling responsible for the failure? (e.g., “I’m really glad you shared that, because I see I completely forgot to tell you a really important point last week. You couldn’t possibly have known, but when you do that, it’s important to...” vs. e.g., “You misunderstood the assignment. Remember, when you do that, it’s important to...”)

12. Praise and encourage parents for what they did well and recognize their beginning steps at change, rather than correct their process?

13. Look for opportunities to do spontaneous role plays when reviewing home activities and experiences?

14. Limit the home activities discussion (approximately 30 minutes) to give adequate time for new learning?

WHEN BEGINNING THE TOPIC FOR THE DAY

Did the Leaders:

15. Begin the discussion of new topic with brainstorming benefits to get parents to think about the importance of the topic? (Benefits and barriers exercises are described beginning of each new topic.)

16. Paraphrase and highlight the points made by parents—writing key points and principles on the board?
WHEN SHOWING THE VIGNETTES

Did the Leaders:

17. Focus parents on what they are about to see on the vignettes and what to look for before showing vignette?

18. Begin discussion and problem solving by asking questions to parents about what they thought was happening in the vignette? (Some example open-ended questions the leader can ask are included in the manual after each vignette.)

19. Acknowledge responses one or more parents have to a vignette? (For example, if a parent laughs during a vignette, as soon as the tape stops the leader may say, “Sue, you laughed at that one.” Then pause and let the parent share her impressions.)

20. Paraphrase and highlight the points made by parents - writing key points and principles on the board?

21. Move on to the next vignette after key points have been discussed, rather than let discussion go on at length? (This ensures that the leaders will have sufficient time for role-playing, practices and for showing all vignettes.)

22. Allow for discussion following each vignette? (If vignettes are played one after another, parents may not catch the key points illustrated. Additionally, they won’t have an opportunity to process emotional reactions they may have to vignettes. IF the group is clearly behind schedule, it is okay for such discussions to be brief, getting parents to highlight key points in a sentence and then quickly move on.)

23. Redirect group to the relevance of the interaction on the video for their own lives (if parents become distracted by some aspect of the vignette, such as clothing or responses that seem phony)?

24. Help parents understand how the concepts they are learning are related to their own goals for themselves and their children?

25. Ask questions that focus on parents’ feelings, thoughts and behaviors?

26. Use video vignettes to trigger role plays and practices?
PRACTICE AND ROLE PLAYS

Did the Leaders:

27. Ensure that the skill to be practiced has been covered in the vignettes or discussion prior to asking someone to roleplay it. (This ensures the likelihood of success)
28. Do several spontaneous role plays that are derived from parents’ descriptions of what happened at home? (“Show me what that looks like.”)
29. Do several planned role plays over the course of the session?
30. Do one or more role plays in pairs or small groups that allow multiple people to practice simultaneously?

31. Use all of the following skills when directing role plays?
   ___ Select parents and give them appropriate roles
   ___ Skillfully get parents engaged in role plays
   ___ Provide each person with a description of his/her role and script (age of child, level of misbehavior)
   ___ Provide enough “scaffolding” so that parents are successful in their role as “parent” (e.g., get other parents to generate ideas for how to handle the situation before practice begins)
   ___ Invite other workshop members to be “coaches,” to call out ideas if the actor is stuck)
   ___ Freeze role play periodically to redirect, give clarification, or reinforce participants.
   ___ Take responsibility for having given poor instructions if roleplay is not successful and allow actor to rewind and replay?
   ___ Debrief with each participant afterwards (How did that feel?)
   ___ Solicit feedback from group about strengths of parent in role and feelings of parent in role as child
   ___ Re-run role play, changing roles or involving different parents (not always needed, but helpful to do for a parent who needs modeling by someone else first)

32. Pause longer vignettes several times to mediate what is happening and to ask parents what they would do differently or predict what will happen next.

YES  NO  N/A
33. Pause introductory narrations to ask parents if they have questions and to underscore key point being made. Then introduce vignette and what to watch for.

34. Select additional vignettes according to group ethnicity, number of children in family, or age, development and temperament of children.

REVIEW REFRIGERATOR NOTES, HOME ACTIVITIES AND WRAP UP

Did the Leaders:

35. Begin the ending process with about 15 minutes remaining?

36. Summarize this session’s learning? (One way to do this is to review or have parents review each point on refrigerator notes out loud.)

37. Review or have parents review the home activity sheet, including why that is important, and whether and how they will try to do it?

39. Talk about any adaptations to the home activity for particular families.

40. Show support and acceptance if parents can’t commit to all the home activities. (support realistic plans)

41. Have parents complete the Self-Monitoring Checklist and commit to their personal goals for the week.?

42. Check-in on buddy calls?

43. Have parents complete the session evaluation form?

44. End the session on time?

REMEMBER: Your goal in the group sessions should be to draw from the parents the information and ideas to teach each other. They should be the ones who generate the principles, describe the significance, highlight what was effective and ineffective on the tapes, and demonstrate how to implement the skills in different situations. People are far more likely to put into practice what they talk about than what they hear about.
